The approach to the energy company's board room passes through the gallery of African art pieces and emphasizes the importance of African woods and materials in the design of the working environment. The space is a tribute to the company's client and demonstrates their respect for the client's culture.

Custom designed bronze metal and glass doors provide an open view of the elevator lobby, reception and boardroom foyer. The three spaces transition beautifully and feature the client's art collection, antiques and accessories. This transitional and finely detailed space provides a warm and welcome backdrop for the client's operations.

This project's theme began with two pieces of art. Graphic, fun, and sophistication became the design concept while providing comfortable and inviting spaces for this student multi-family project. High contrast is combined with interesting textures and shapes. The end result offers a unique space for living, study, and entertainment.
